

(Conductor and Artistic Adviser - Simon Wright)

CHORUS MASTER SCHOLARSHIP

SEPTEMBER 2018 to JULY 2019

Leeds Festival Chorus is delighted to offer aspiring young choral conductors a challenging opportunity to enjoy practical coaching and experience on a chorus master scholarship, with the generous support of the Hobson Charity. The successful chorus master scholar will be able to lead practical sessions at rehearsals and also receive one-to-one sessions with Simon Wright, Leeds Festival Chorus's Artistic Advisor and Conductor. The Chorus intends, subject to the scholar being suitable, to offer them an opportunity to conduct the chorus for part of a public concert. There is an exciting season of music planned for 2018/ 2019, which will include a performance of Britten's War Requiem. Please visit our website (<http://www.leedsfestivalchorus.co.uk/>) or Facebook page (<https://en-gb.facebook.com/LeedsFestivalChorus/>) for more information about the Choir.

Applicants should be:

1. Aged 21-26
2. Living in the UK
3. Either a final year student, a post-graduate student on a conducting course or a recent graduate with a conducting masters
4. Passionate about choral music

For further details about remuneration and application procedure, please contact the Concerts' Organiser, Emma Stanbury (estanburyconcertsorganiser@gmail.com)